

Science Communication Conferences

21 February 2023 – 14.00-17.00

Title: Science Communication - background, needs and benefits

Prof. Dr. Nicole Graulich and Kerstin Kremer

Conference on general topics on science communication, with a focus on sustainability: how to identify the correct sources of information, how to spot fake news in science, the correct language to be used, how to avoid oversimplification etc.

Location: aula I del Dipartimento di Scienze Chimiche

Nicole Graulich currently works at the Institute of Chemistry Education, Justus-Liebig-Universität Gießen. Nicole does research in Organic Chemistry and Higher Education.

22 February 2023 – 14.00-17.00

Title: Engaging scientists with public communication - bridging theory and practice

Prof. Dr. Nicole Graulich and Kerstin Kremer

Workshop: practical session focusing on one's own research and the respective science communication of it with practical exercises and reflection.

Location: aula I del Dipartimento di Scienze Chimiche

Kerstin Kremer currently works at Justus Liebig University Giessen, Institute for Biology Education, Faculty for Biology & Chemistry. Kerstin does research in Science Education.